Newman University

If you do not have any offers, or have recently decided to start university this September, UCAS Clearing is the system whereby you can identify and apply to university courses with vacancies. Over 65,000 students successfully secured places through clearing last year, with an increasing number being late decisions to apply to university.

HOW CLEARING WORKS

1. If you have not previously applied you will need to register with UCAS first.
2. Log into your UCAS account and go to your UCAS Track page. You are in Clearing if your Track status says 'You are in Clearing' and/or an 'Add Clearing choice' button has appeared. Make a note of your clearing number, which together with your UCAS personal ID number, you will need when contacting universities.
3. Go to www.ucas.com/clearing and search for a course or courses that are of interest to you.
4. Call universities about the course(s) you are interested in and give them your Clearing and Personal ID number. Ask them if they would be prepared to offer you a place on a particular course with reference to your exam results. If you have more than one offer, decide which offer you would like to accept, as you can only add one Clearing choice at a time through Track.
5. Log on to UCAS Track, click 'Add Clearing Choice' and enter the course details by the date the university gives you. This counts as you accepting their offer of a place on the course.
6. The university will then confirm your application, which will subsequently show as 'accepted' on your track page. UCAS will then send you a confirmation letter.

This information is provided as a helpful guide, for the most up-to-date information please check the UCAS website: www.ucas.com
